DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character “43” has been used to designate both “voltage source” and “plasma”.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: 14 (see page 1, line 18). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

3. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: 42 (see Figure 5). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

4. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

5. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract is greater than 150 words long. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Art Unit: 1753

6. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: reference must be made to the parent application in the first line of the specification; "provid" should be "provide" on page 4 at line 37; and "th" should be "the" on page 5 at line 37.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

8. Claim 31 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

9. Claim 31 recites the limitation "the conductive surface" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 1-14, 30, and 32-38 are allowed.

11. Claim 31 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

12. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: it is neither anticipated nor obvious over the prior art of record to have a method of sputtering a thin film as claimed by Applicant in claims 1 or 30.

13. US 5,434,104 to Cain et al. (Cain) discloses a sputtering process whereby a multi-component target can be sputtered to produce an alloy film. The target contains the components in elemental form. The resultant film can be resputtered by using bias sputtering (i.e. biasing the substrate). In so doing, the resputtering caused by bias the substrate “may” alter the film composition (col. 6, l. 30-60). Merely because the resputtering “may” alter the film composition does not mean that Cain resputters an element so that the resultant film has variations in atomic percentage of the element along the surface. Also, there is no guarantee that the resputtering will even alter the film composition. It appears, at most, that the film composition might change, but not because Cain wants it to change. Applicant, on the other hand, explicitly states that the atomic percentage of the first element is varied along the conductive surface. It is a great leap to say that one would take the teaching of Cain and resputter to vary the atomic percentage of an element along the conductive surface. I believe that Cain suggests that the resultant alloy composition could be different rather than individual element amounts varying. There is no indication that Cain is depositing anything other than alloys whereas claims 1 and 30 clearly require some form of elemental deposition.
